The 13th Chinese Academic Conference of Minimally Invasive Therapy in Oncology The 4th Academic Conference of the Asian Society of Cryosurgery

2017.8.25-27 Jinan, China

Welcome Speech

The 13th Chinese Academic Conference of Minimally Invasive Therapy in Oncology and the 4th Academic Conference of the Asian Society of Cryosurgery will be held in Jinan during 25th to 27th, August, 2017. The Conferences aims to "focus on the forefront of academic development, strengthen academic exchanges at home and abroad, popularize the clinical application of minimally invasive new technologies" and lead the comprehensive development of minimally invasive and precise treatment of tumors in China. The Conference is host by Minimally Invasive Oncology Therapy Committee of China Anti - Cancer Association and Shandong Medical Imaging Research Institute and organized by Shandong Medical Imaging Research Institute, Shandong Provincial Hospital, the Affiliated Hospital of Qingdao University and the Branch of Cancer Intervention of Shandong Medical Doctors Association.

With the era of precision medicine, the concept of cancer treatment is undergoing tremendous changes. Precision medicine and minimally invasive medicine have advanced and updated constantly, which leads the treatment of tumors tend to minimally invasive, efficient and individual. The representative disciplines of precision medicine such as molecular biology, molecular imaging, minimally invasive interventional medicine, have achieved rapid progress, which pushes the minimally invasive treatment of tumors following with the latest scientific and technological progress and pursuing the smaller trauma or even non-invasive, so that it could reach the best state of individual treatment for cancer minimally invasive intervention treatment and gradually become the mainstream of cancer treatment direction.

Minimally Invasive Oncology Therapy Committee aims at minimally invasive, accurate, efficient and individual and has made a great contribution on innovating popularizing and leading the domestic cancer minimally invasive therapy. The development of minimally invasive career embodies the hard work of several generations of experts. The Conference will bring together many leading experts in the field of oncology and update the latest reports on molecular imaging, minimally invasive surgery, tumor ablation, radioactive particles, endoscopy, biotherapy and other minimally invasive treatments, thereby jointly improve the level of China's tumor minimally invasive treatments. We invite all the healthcare practitioners to gather in the spring city (jinan) and seek common development !
